

13. NZ POLICE REPORT

Inspector Barry Thackwell was in attendance at the meeting and reported on the traffic enforcement undertaken in the Christchurch area over the past year. The Committee had sought a report on the effectiveness of the use of micro-wave speed units funded by the Council. Over the past three years the percent of total reported collisions involving speed has reduced from 20.7% to 16.5% of collisions reported.

Inspector Thackwell noted that Christchurch Police allocation of resources to traffic enforcement is much higher than other Police districts in New Zealand.
