

13. MONITORING CYCLE NUMBERS - 1999

The Committee was informed of the results of various surveys to monitor cycle numbers during 1999. The reports included cycle counts at intersections, cycle counts at schools, and the results of an annual surveys conducted in October/November each year. The surveys indicated rises in cycle use in some areas but reduced cycle use in others. The Committee has requested that a more comprehensive and reliable cycle counting programme be implemented to enable a better assessment of cycle use over the next five years. The survey will include information provided by the Cycle Safe Committee.
