Glenelg Health Camp

I am always humbled when I go to Glenelg and see the superb programmes that are in place and the work of both staff and pupils.

Glenelg is situated in Murray Aynsley on the Port Hills and is set on six acres that have been developed with a safe, yet challenging, focus. In addition to the Children's Health Camp's extensive range of health care programmes, emphasis is placed on outdoor challenge and self esteem. Facilities and equipment are available to allow for this special emphasis.

The main building has recently been extensively modernized and upgraded to provide a modern facility for children and parents, without losing any of its original aesthetic charm. Twenty parents are well catered for in their parenting accommodation.
