PURPOSE OF REPORT

1. The purpose of this report is to inform the Council about new decision making powers under the Resource Management (Simplifying and Streamlining) Amendment Bill 2009, relating to both the planning administration and district planning teams, which are recommended to be delegated to either the Hearings Panels, Officer Subcommittees or senior staff positions. It also recommends new delegations in response to the needs of planning administration, the removal of now redundant delegations and job position titles, and consequential changes to the wording of existing delegations to reflect the amended statute, new job position titles, and to correct errors.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

- 2. The Resource Management (Simplifying and Streamlining) Amendment Bill 2009 is proposed to be enacted and come into effect on 1 October 2009. It introduces a number of changes to the Resource Management Act 1991, with the aim of simplifying and streamlining the planning processes under the Act including in relation to development proposals of national significance. Many of these changes give the Council new powers in relation to processing resource consents.
- 3. The new powers for which delegations are required relate to the following:
 - Deciding on whether a notified resource consent application or an application to change or cancel a condition of a resource consent that has been notified, should be directly referred to the Environment Court at the request of an applicant, under section 87CA of the amended Act.
 - Deciding on whether to request the Minister for the Environment to call-in a resource consent application for a proposal of national significance, under section 145(1) of the amended Act.
 - Making suggestions to the Minister for the Environment for persons to sit on a board of inquiry to be appointed to hear a resource consent for a proposal of national significance, under section 149K of the amended Act.
 - To provide a discount on an administrative change imposed under section 36 in accordance with regulations made under section 360(1)(hj) of the Resource Management Act 1991, where a resource consent has not been processed within statutory timeframes.
 - Deciding on whether a notice of requirement for designation or a notice for a heritage order should be directly referred to the Environment Court at the request of a requiring authority or a heritage protection authority under sections 198BA or 198I.
 - Determining any notification issues for any notice of requirement for designation under sections 168A or 169 of the Resource Management Act 1991 or for any notice of requirement for a heritage order under sections 189A or 190.
 - To suggest conditions that should be imposed if the Environment Court decides to grant any of the applications in sections 87BA, 198A and 198H, that the Council has referred to the Court for decision, under sections 87D, 198C or 198J,
 - To make a further submission to the EPA under section 149D of the Resource Management Act 1991.
 - To determine that an application is incomplete and return it to the applicant pursuant to section 88(3) of the Resource Management Act 1991 (has been previously adopted but not included in the current delegations register).
 - To issue a certificate of compliance pursuant to section 139 of the Resource Management Act 1991 (a new delegation for the Resource Management Officer Subcommittee but deleted as an existing delegation to the Team Leaders).

- 4. In addition, a new delegation is sought in relation to the existing section 138 of the Act relating to the surrendering of resource consents. Section 138 enables a holder of a resource consent to surrender that consent in whole, or in part, by giving written consent to the Council. The Council may refuse to accept the surrender of part of a consent where it considers that the surrender would affect the integrity of the consent, or affect the ability of the consent holder to meet other conditions of the consent, or lead to an adverse effect on the environment. A delegation of this decision making power is sought for the Hearings Panels, and the Resource Management Officer Subcommittee.
- 5. In terms of the new powers relating to direct referral of an application to the Environment Court and requesting the minister to call-in an application, these processes will be used exclusively for either notified (in the case of direct referral), or nationally significant proposals (in the case of called-in applications). As such it is recommended that they be exercised by a Hearings Panel in recognition of their significance. They also align with similar powers the Hearings Panels currently have in respect of notified applications. In reality such powers may be rarely used as, for example, it is not envisaged that there will be many proposals that would qualify as a proposal of national significance in the Christchurch City Council area.
- 6. It is recommended that the new power to make suggestions to the Minister of the Environment for persons to sit on a board of inquiry to hear an application for a proposal of national significance be exercised by the Resource Management Manager or Planning Administration Manager. Currently these positions have the delegation to approve the composition of Hearings Panels to hear matters under the Resource Management Act 1991, and it is considered that the new power would align with these existing delegations. Again, it is considered that such a power will be rarely exercised within the Christchurch City Council area.
- 7. The new powers in relation to providing a discount on an administrative change for late consent processing and determining whether to accept a surrender of part of an existing resource consent are typical planning administrative manners which are considered appropriate to be exercised at Resource Management Officer Subcommittee level.
- 8. As a result of changes to the format and/or wording of existing provisions in the Act, consequential wording changes are also required to other existing delegations. With the exception of expanding the powers of the Resource Management Officer Subcommittee to appoint commissioners, the remainder of these changes do not in any way affect the substance or affect the power given by the existing delegations. They are necessary only to ensure consistency with the format and wording of the amended Act.
- 9. Changes to the current delegation to the Resource Management Officer Subcommittee to appoint commissioners is, however, recommended to broaden the powers of the Subcommittee to appoint commissioners to consider wider matters delegated to subcommittee level. This would include the ability to consider applications for change or cancellation of consent conditions, outline plans, certificates of compliance, and existing use certificates among other subcommittee powers. It is also recommended that the Subcommittee have the delegation to appoint commissioners to consider objections to additional fees charged on resource consents under sections 357B and 357D of the Resource Management Act 1991.
- 10. The broadening of these powers is considered necessary to allow commissioners to be appointed for such matters where the Council may have a conflict of interest in making a decision on the matter itself. This would also avoid the need to bring together Hearings Panels at short notice to instead delegate subcommittee powers to commissioners. Furthermore, the delegation of fee objections to commissioners is considered good planning practice to ensure that fee objections are considered in an independent and transparent manner.
- 11. At present the delegations from the Council give a Council Hearings Panel or a commissioner the power to hear matters such as plan changes and variations and make recommendations to the Council. The same applies to notices of requirement heard by a Council Hearings Panel (i.e. a recommendation is made to the Council which then makes a recommendation to the requiring authority). However, a commissioner hearing a similar matter has the power to make a recommendation direct to the requiring authority.

- 12. Previously there has been conflicting opinion as to the powers that could be delegated to a commissioner but recent case law (Kapiti Environmental Action Inc v Kapiti Coast District Council [EnvC W085/07]) gave some direction and the Act is now to be amended to clarify that a commissioner may be delegated the power to exercise any functions, powers, or duties under the Act other than the approval of a plan under Clause 17 of Schedule 1. Section 34 of the Act allows the Council to delegate to any committee any of its functions powers or duties.
- 13. The Committee may wish to consider recommending to the Council that the delegations to Council Hearings Panels be amended to allow a panel to make decisions rather than recommendations on plan changes, variations and the power to make a recommendation directly to a requiring authority. Such a change would have the effect of giving the same power to a commissioner because of the Council's delegation giving commissioners the powers of a Hearings Panel.
- 14. The Council is very limited in what is can do with a recommendation from a panel or commissioner. It cannot substitute the recommendation with its own decision nor can it vary a recommendation substantially. It can refer a recommendation back to a panel or commissioner and ask that particular matters be reconsidered or it could refer the matter to another panel or commissioner to be reheard. The need to have a panel or commissioner recommendation by the Council as its decision can result in a delay of a decision by up to six weeks.
- 15. If the Council is minded to delegate the functions discussed in paragraph 13 then the following resolution also needs to be made. [To amend the existing delegations (1(a), 1(b), 1(f) and 1(h)) to the Council Hearings Panels to allow a panel to make decisions rather than recommendations on plan changes, variations and the power to make a recommendation directly to a requiring authority].
- 16. Finally, some changes are also recommended to correct errors in the existing delegations, to reflect changed job position titles, and to remove redundant delegations for some job positions due to changes in the roles and responsibilities of those positions. This includes removal of some plan making delegations to the Environmental Policy and Approvals Manager which are no longer a role of that position. These now sit within the Strategy and Planning Group, and requisite delegations already exist for persons within that group to carry out those powers.
- 17. The three Tables below set out the changes proposed for the planning administration team, with Table 1 setting out the new powers together with the group or position to which it is recommended they be delegated. Table 2 sets out the consequential amendments to existing delegations required to ensure consistency with the amended Act. Table 3 sets out those amendments required to correct errors or remove now redundant delegations.
