Dear Reader,

As a ratepayer on a Low Income I am keen to see the Rates remain on an amount I can afford to pay I have recently seen in the Council Newsletter an article on proposal that the Council begin to collect Household Food Waste.

Being in favour of recycling both for decreasing amounts of rubbish collection and waste stations I applaud this idea - though instead of the Council providing this service I would like to see more personal household responsibility for this. I suggest that maybe the Council encourages households to have their own Worm farms to deal with food waste which can then provide natural fertiliser for gardens.

Yours Faithfully
