Questions

1 Do you have any comments on the major projects in our draft Community Plan? page number

2 Do you have any comments on groups of activities (the activities and services that Council provides)? page number

Yes. 'Literacy is the ability to understand, respond to, and use those forms of language that are required by society and valued by individuals and communities' - Community libraries are an integral part of developing and promoting literacy in our young people today. It is imperative that schools have a community library with which to develop a working relationship that meets this definition. We, at Addington have had a long association with the Spreydon Library and have made that relationship an important part of our literacy programmes. Our children walk to the library as part of class programmes and at times the library staff have come to us. Through this association our children have become library card holders and have an understanding of what libraries can offer them

3 Do you have any other comments or suggestions you want to make? page number in their life long journey as learners. Our children use the library for research as well as reading for pleasure. Many of our families do not have the luxury of cars to transport them and their children to other areas, so a library within their community walking distance is extremely valuable. Surely as a council you would see and value this resource as we as members of the community do.
