NOTES:

Two new categories were added for the June 1999 Update, but have been excluded from the total residential vacant land:

Under Appeal - includes those areas zoned residential in the City Plan Decisions released in May 1999, and are vacant, but have had appeals lodged against them.

City Plan Zoning Deferred: are areas which are proposed to be zoned residential as a result of the City Plan, but require additional conditions to be met before they are able to be developed as urban.

Audit, February 2002: The register was audited in February 2002 based on recently purchased aerial photos flown in March 2000. 959 parcels were removed due to either buildings or evidence of construction being present. Where possible (using Building Consent records) these sites were assigned to the year they should have been removed (for updating of Take-Up figures). Total vacant land figures have been recalculated for June 2000. Note that this will mean figures in previous reports may not be consistent with figures in this report.

Notes

Land under constraint has fluctuated between 1990 and 1994 due to the changing status of land at Travis Swamp.

* During 1994 the register was audited, the figures reported here are the audited figures.

~ During 1995/96 year a new category was added to the Vacant Land Register. Potential for development includes all land over 4000m2 which already has 1 dwelling on it. This resulted in an addition of approx. 40 hectares to the register. At the same time the Land Under Constraint Category was removed and the land added to the appropriate categories.

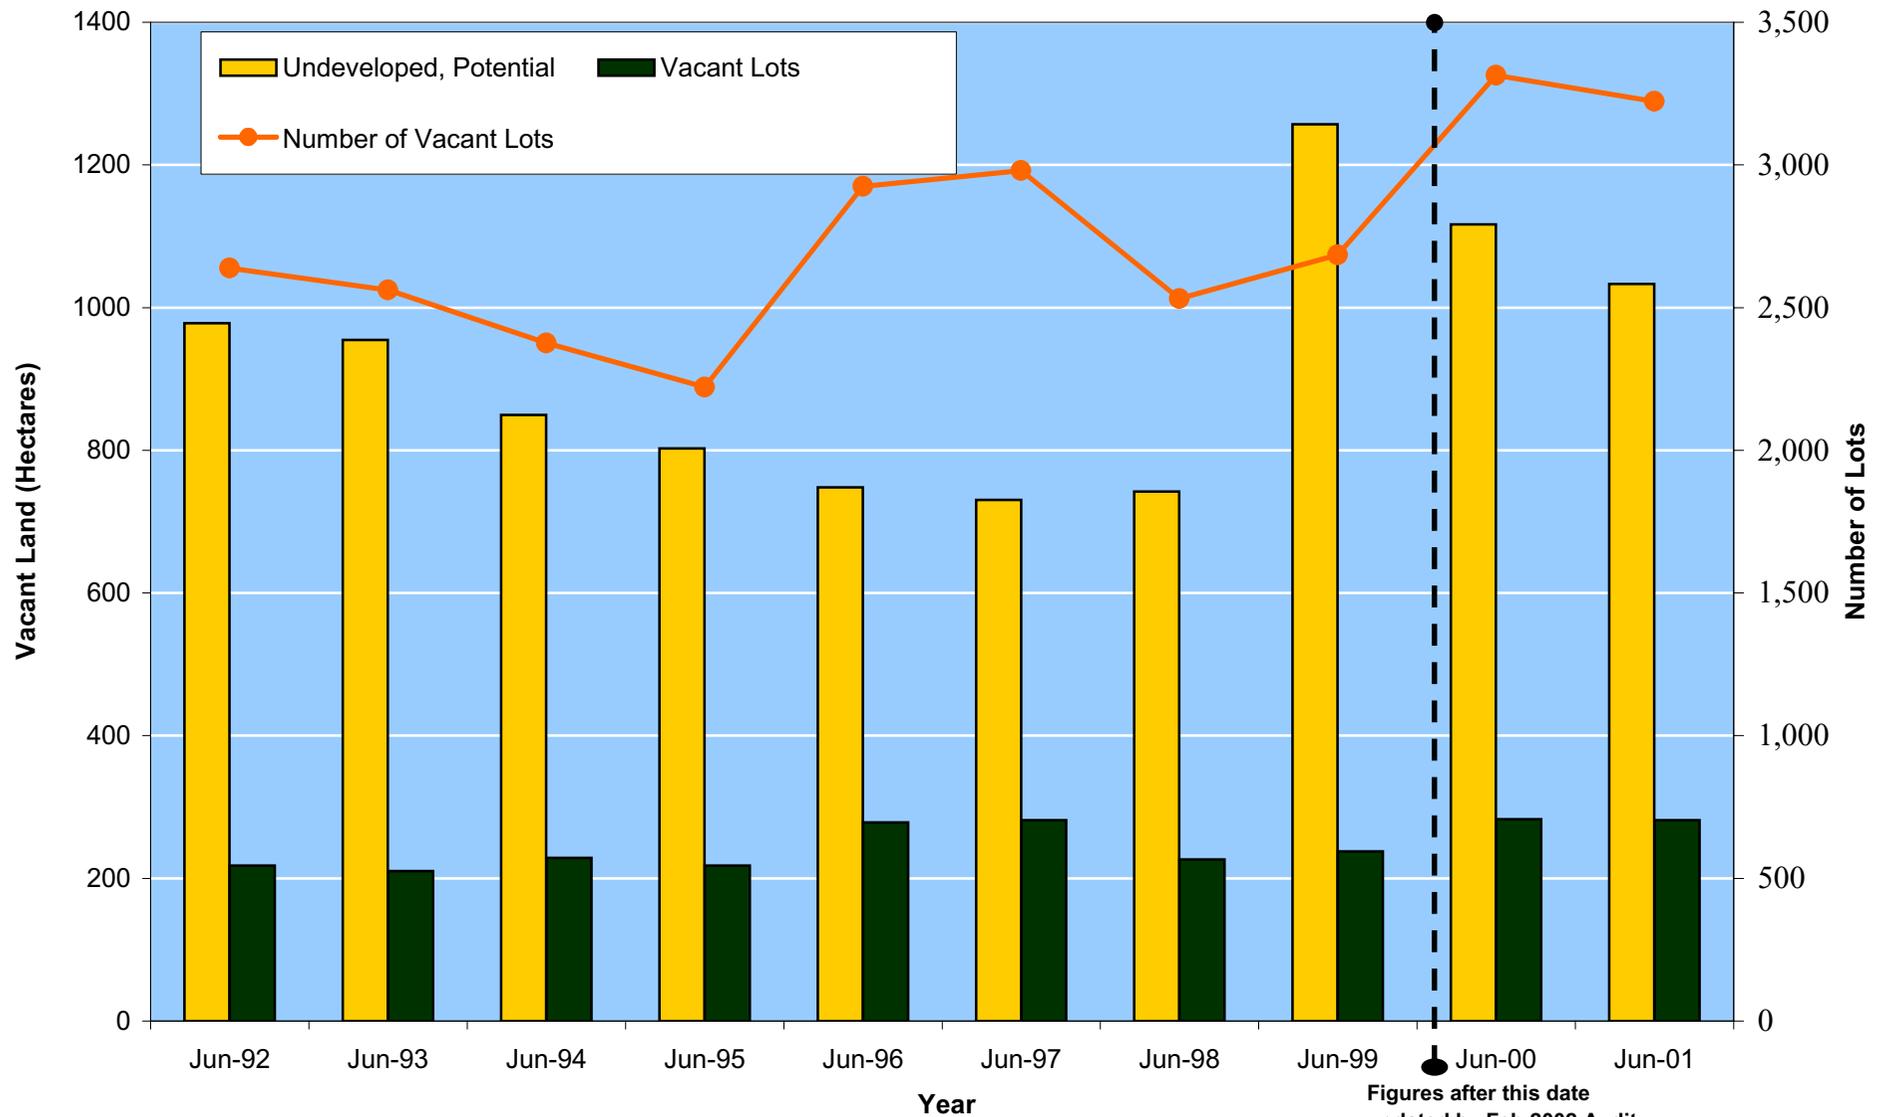

^ Between June 1997 and June 1998 the register was audited and migrated into a GIS. This resulted in small changes to the base data and a different updating process. The definition for 'Potential for Development' was changed to only include land between 4000m2 and 1 hectare. Land over one hectare with a dwelling on it is now included in the Undeveloped Land category.

& In May 1999 City Plan Decision were released which zoned an additional area of residential land, much of which has been added to the Vacant Land Register. Some of this land is still under appeal, or has had the decisions deferred. The vacant land which is still under appeal or has had the zoning deferred have been included in a separate categories, and have been excluded from the total vacant land. Land which is zoned as special purpose in Wigram ('Other' category) which can be developed as Living 1 is also attached as an additional category, it is included in the total vacant land. Since 1999, the vacant residential land in the Wigram Special purpose zone has been assigned to the most appropriate category from Vacant lots, Potential and Undeveloped.

 Audit, February 2002: The figures for June 2000 will differ from last year's report because of the audit undertaken in February 2002. The -64.5 ha in the 'Other' category is being removed as a result of the audit.

Potential for Development Category: This category was introduced into the register to allow for large residential sites (over 4000m2) which had an existing dwelling and therefore was not technically 'vacant'. There are two main types of sites included in this category, sites with a large house and garden within the city and sites with a house and market garden on the edge of the city. In most cases, these sites have the potential to be subdivided whilst still leaving the character of the existing house and garden intact.

Notes:

1. Between June 1997 and June 1998 the register was audited and migrated to a GIS. This resulted in small changes to the base data and a different updating process.
2. City Plan Decisions released in May 1999 were included in the June 1999 Totals. This total does not include those areas of vacant residential land that are still under appeal or have deferred zoning.
3. The register was re-audited in February 2002. This audit removed 959 lots from the 2001 total and removed 64.5 ha from the June 2000 year for all years prior.

* The register was audited in February 2002 based on recently purchased aerial photos flown in March 2000. Where possible (using Building Consent records) sites in the audit which were found to be built on prior to June 2000 were assigned to the year they should have been removed with all prior to 1996 being assigned to that year. Please note that this will mean figures in previous reports may not be consistent with figures in this report.
