The purpose of this report is to inform the Committee of a submission about the current Review of the Length of School Day and the School Year.

INTRODUCTION

On approval by the Community Services Chairperson a submission on the Discussion paper was prepared and submitted to the working group. A copy of this submission is attached to this report.

BACKGROUND

The Review of the Length of School Day and the School Year Discussion Paper and a questionnaire based on the discussion paper were released in late April for consultation. Responses were due by 28 May 1999.

The paper was prepared by a Working Group comprising Hon Margaret Austin, Irene Cooper, Principal of Hillcrest Normal School, Wayne Edwards, Professor of Education Massey University, Alister Peat, President NZPTA, Awi Riddell, Education Consultant, John Tai, Principal Motueka High School. The Terms of reference of the Working Party included considering issues such as:

- Engaged time needed to deliver to students quality education that meets national curriculum requirements relevant to the needs of the 21 century
- The terms, holidays and school day lengths for different age groups and other factors relating to schools' needs to provide quality education
- Parental, community and workforce requirements and expectations of students' attendance at school
- The balance between national consistency and local flexibility

The focus of the discussion paper was the length of the school day and school year including "engaged learning" time. The Working Party sought feedback on issues such as:

- Formal hours of instruction
- Distinction between curriculum delivery and extra-curriculum delivery in open of instruction specification
- Extending school year
- Perpetuating the difference in the school year for primary and secondary schools
- How time is allocated and used in school to deliver the curriculum
- Teachers conditions of work
- Management and who determine term times
- Use of school facilities
