

10. NEW ZEALAND LOCAL AUTHORITY TRAFFIC INSTITUTE (TRAFINZ) CONFERENCE

RR 10155

Officer responsible City Streets Manager	Author Parking Operations Manager
Corporate Plan Output: Agreement Management, 9.5.1

The purpose of this report is to inform elected members of the forthcoming New Zealand Local Authority Traffic Institute (TRAFINZ) Conference, which is being hosted by the Council on 9, 10 and 11 August this year.

SYNOPSIS OF TRAFINZ

TRAFINZ represents Local Authority views on road safety and traffic management. It has an agreed protocol with Local Government New Zealand (LGNZ) under which it advocates and lobbies for road safety and traffic planning and management. It also acts as a forum for sharing and collectively pursuing traffic issues of interest to Local Authorities, and for sharing information and advice.

As an organisation TRAFINZ is run by a voluntary Executive comprising 12 Councillors and Officers representing some two-thirds of New Zealand's population. There is also a Technical Committee of Officer practitioners from various member authorities, plus the Police, who carry out or co-ordinate the detailed work set by the Executive in an annual business plan.

Councillor David Close is the immediate past President of TRAFINZ and Councillor Denis O'Rourke is a current member of the Executive.

CONFERENCE OUTLINE

The theme of the Conference is "A Community Approach to Traffic and Safety".

This theme is in turn structured around two broad headings:

- Day 1: Future Directions – What outcomes do we want for our communities?
- Day 2: Road safety and community involvement in same.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Three keynote speakers will present papers on Day 1, the focus being on innovative solutions for a safe and sustainable transport environment for our communities. These speakers are:

- Gerald Arrington

Director Strategic Planning for 'Trimet', the provider of public transport in Portland, Oregon – USA.

- David Engwicht

Author of “Towards an Eco-City: Calming the Traffic”. Based in Australia, David is currently working with Local Authorities internationally on traffic reduction initiatives at the community/neighbourhood level.

- Elizabeth Ampt

Liz is a specialist in the field of travel behaviour and was instrumental in the development of the concept of “Travel Blending”. She has recently been involved in the implementation of this concept in Adelaide, South Australia, via the ‘Travelsmart Adelaide’ scheme.

In addition to the keynote speakers there are a number of other interesting speakers focusing on the road safety aspect of the Conference on Day 2, including, amongst others: Martin Small – ACC National Road Safety Manager, Tony Bliss – LTSA, Superintendent Neil Gyde – Police National Road Safety Manager, Reena Kokotailo – ‘Walkable Communities’, Rebecca Williams – ‘Safe Routes to School’.

The programme is sure to be relevant to elected members and the Conference will provide the opportunity to hear and meet the three keynote speakers in the one location.

REGISTRATION

Conference brochures and registration forms are available via Brian Neill of the City Streets Unit and Maurice Smith of the Parking Unit. Cost of registration is $300 and attendance fee is $200.

The Community Board has funds available to pay these fees in respect of any member who will be attending on behalf of the Board.
