DRAFT TRADING AND EVENTS IN PUBLIC PLACES

1. Introduction

Trading and events in public places, where appropriate and managed, can add character, vibrancy and safety to urban areas and can attract visitors to these locations. However trading and events need to be balanced against the needs of the environment and the impact public and commercial activities may have on private properties adjacent to public areas.

This document outlines the policy for:

- Trading in public places, including general trading, mobile and travelling shops, hawkers, display of goods and services for sale including markets and stalls, street performances and other commercial activities.
- Events in public places, including socially important occasions, festivals and theme days, or recreational/promotional activities. For the purpose of this policy the term “events” refers to both formally organised events and community or large formal family/whanau recreation activities where dedicated space is required.

Some activities are allowed in public places without a written permit from the Council, provided they are carried out in accordance with this policy. Other activities are only allowed in a public place with a written permit from the Council. This policy identifies both types of activity and sets out relevant general conditions and whether a permit is required.

This policy has been developed to give effect to the Public Places Bylaw 2008, and is one of the operational policies referred to in the Bylaw.

2. Purpose

This policy aims to ensure that trading and events in public places enhance the life and attractiveness of an area by adding vivacity and appeal, without inhibiting the safety and efficiency of pedestrian movement and vehicle travel.

3. Scope

This policy covers public places managed by the Council.

(The Arts Centre markets and activities are situated on private land and are not managed by the Council so do not fall under this policy).

This policy does not cover street appeals and soliciting for charities and/or membership, as these will be covered in the Street Appeals Policy.

4. General approach

No person may trade or organise events in a public place without the consent of the Council.

Unless otherwise stated, a Council permit will be required for any trading or events in a public place.

A permit under this policy only gives the applicant the right to trade in the specified public area. It is not a permit for the purposes of food hygiene, sale of alcohol, traffic management and does not cover private roads, state highways or other roads under the control of the New Zealand Transport Agency.

Any other required licence/permit must be obtained through the proper process. Obtaining any other appropriate permits may be a pre-requisite of a permit to trade in a public place.

For some large social gatherings, such as family/whanau recreation in public parks, a booking may be required for the use of a public place. (Refer to: <http://www.ccc.govt.nz/cityleisure/parkswalkways/faq.aspx> for information about booking a public park.)

In determining trading and event locations, the Council will make sure that:

- appropriate standards of health, safety, pedestrian priority and visual amenity are maintained
- the permitted activity is appropriate and sympathetic to the surrounding area
- the trading or event supports or enhances the existing function of the area.

The Council will also consider the potential impact on established businesses when determining where street trading and events can occur.

The Council may, under the Parking Strategy, allow temporary lease of on-street parking spaces for trades/development activities and events.

5. Principles of this Policy

The following principles apply when considering applications for trading and events in public places:

- Trading and events in public places can have positive impacts economically, socially and culturally when managed appropriately.
- The use of public places should provide opportunities for the public to participate in activities such as leisure, retail, recreation and entertainment.
- Trading and events should add to the city's vibrancy, maintain public safety and strengthen the existing function of areas.
- The effects on existing businesses, including potential economic impacts, will be taken into account when considering any public place trading or commercial activity application.
- Businesses, groups and individuals that are permitted to use public places for trading and activities are responsible for managing these activities in accordance with Council policies, guidelines and conditions of use identified in the permit.

The rent will be set at a level that reflects the value of the location and ensures that businesses on private property are not unfairly disadvantaged. Further fees may be charged depending on the scope of the event/activity, and in accordance with any other approval that may be needed for the event/activity. A permit under this policy only gives the applicant the right to trade in the specified public area. It is not a permit for the purposes of food hygiene, sale of alcohol and traffic management. ### 12.2 Open air markets and food stalls

The allocation of all Council-administered market and stall sites will be decided by a weighted attribute method of tender. All stall sites open for tender will be publicly advertised in The Press as they become available. Anyone interested in a site can contact the Council's property consultancy team. Refer to <http://www.ccc.govt.nz/cityleisure/parkswalkways/faq.aspx> for information about booking a public park.

13.3 Street Performance Permit may be required

The Council recognises the valuable contribution street performers make in adding entertainment, culture and vitality to public places. As the home of the World Buskers Festival, Christchurch is the country's leading supporter of street performance.

Street performances are recognised as a valid means for people to make money, but members of the public should not feel coerced to give money.

To give residents, retailers and workers a variety of performance, favourable street performance sites are to be fairly shared among buskers and the duration each performer can spend on a site will be limited to 60 minutes and cannot return to that site within a 24 hour period, unless approved by Council.

The sale of any goods is not permitted as part of the street performance activity, and a separate trading permit under this policy must be obtained.

Nominated Street Performance Areas

The Council may, from time to time, nominate specific areas as street performance areas. These areas will be included as a Register to this policy and may be reviewed and updated by the Council annually.

These nominated areas do not require a permit (unless the street performer is using dangerous materials, objects or animals) from the Council for the purpose of street performances, but must comply with the General Conditions for Street Performers, and performers must have their Council Street Performer's Identification Card.

13.4 Pavement Art

A street performance permit is required by all pavement artists, working in any area, including nominated street performance areas. Pavement artists must comply with the Street Performers general conditions and the general conditions for Pavement Artists.
