Sewerage treatment options (1997 -present). Coastal Management passionate involvement - coastal management options. New Brighton Mall Working Party Member 1995-98. Development should reflect coastal and recreational activities. Local opinions paramount. I offer balance, experience and enthusiasm and am readily available to address the needs of the electors. I am keen to discuss positions on various issues in order to represent the electorate according to local opinion. Electorate and community opinions come first.

Peter FRAEMOHS

Independent Citizens

Living in Burwood for over 45 years, I have seen many changes and developments during that time. Although now quite built up, I believe we have many attractive amenities to offer, from parks and lakes to piers and sporting facilities. Recently back from a trip to Europe, where it struck me that the majority of people live in high rise apartments, I believe that we have a way of life which is precious and unique. Yet there is much which can still be done to build a better Burwood. Trained in economics I have been involved in farming, real estate and sales. In asking for your vote I assure you of energetic and informed representation. Working through a consultative approach to arrive at sound decision making on behalf of the Burwood ratepayers. Open and approachable I live at 19 Oregon Place and may be reached at phone 383-2447.

There are several issues that I feel particularly passionate about. These are the preservation of beaches, parks and wetlands, the improvement of the streets where we live, the safety of our families, and the security of our homes and businesses against crime. I have lived, received my education and worked on the eastern side of Christchurch. I have a true understanding and respect for the people that live in the area. I am a former Chair and current committee member of the Ascot-Freeville

Residents Association. With qualifications in business management, 10 years experience working with youth and presently employed as a manager of services to the elderly, my experience with people spans all ages. I understand that people are busy with balancing work, raising families, and recreation. I want to support people by working on issues important to them. Phone 389-9802.

I believe Christchurch should be judged on how it cares for its most disadvantaged citizens. I have committed myself to making that judgment a positive one. As a current Burwood/Pegasus Community Board member, I have a track record as a strong advocate on issues important to the future of my local community, such as public transport. Currently I'm employed by the hospital chaplaincy board to liaise with disabled people in the community. I bring strong management and social work skills to my work on the Community Board. I'm a former Director of Catholic Social Services in Christchurch, and a former Chair of the NZ Council of Christian Social Services. My lifelong association with the eastern suburbs began as a primary school teacher in New Brighton and continues in my role as a funeral and marriage celebrant, occasions I find fulfilling as they bring people together. achieve soundly-managed local body activities. I am standing for the Community Board in support of continuation of well-planned local facilities and progress while holding the cost to residents within the income levels across the ward. This approach has seen well-maintained services with well planned extensions of amenities.

Community Boards have a key role in strengthening communities and facilitating grassroots input into Council matters. As Deputy Chairperson of the Burwood-Pegasus Community Board I have been proactive in a number of community and environmental projects such as the Travis Wetland, Parklands Community Centre extensions and the North New Brighton Hall upgrade. I am Board liaison to the Golf Links and Dallington Residents Associations. I've enjoyed giving support to a number of community and sporting groups in my role as Chairperson of the Community Funding Committee. I will campaign to bring forward the opening date for the Parklands Library and to have a blitz on graffiti. We need a vibrant New Brighton foreshore and mall. More recreation needs to be provided for youth. The upgrade of Queen Elizabeth II Park also needs to be completed to international standards. Phone 385-4075.
